Adaptive care pathways tailored to meet the needs of each patient

Berkeley Close offers a range of gender-specific and mixed neuro-rehabilitation units, and transitional and supported living accommodation, to test community-based recovery and support patient re-integration.

For over 37 years, our National Brain Injury Centre has cared for men and women aged 18-65 with a brain injury who present challenging behaviours (including aggression, absconding and vulnerability) or who are detained under the Mental Health Act (1983).

The Berkeley's feature a wide range of services, all on one site, including:

- ✓ Vocational and voluntary placements
- ✓ Bespoke packages of care
- ✓ Full time specialists that can quickly adapt to patient's needs
- ✓ An extended MDT including neuro-psychiatry and psychology

“People receiving support from rehabilitation services are eight times more likely to achieve/sustain community living, compared to those supported by generic mental health services.”

Joint Commissioning Panel for Mental Health guidance for commissioners of rehabilitation service
